

2011 WA BUSH POETRY CHAMPIONSHIPS (WRITTEN) – BOYUP BROOK

by Irene Conner

Congratulations to all the award winners, and to those who didn't place, please do not stop entering your poems. Each judge is different, and what wins in one competition may well not win in another. Also, there is very often award winning standard poems that don't receive an award – simply because the standard of the competition is very high, and the judges have to make a decision somewhere.
